

Franz Kline-style Minimalism

Sunday, June. 10th, 2018, 11:15AM-4:15 PM led by Zoya Scholis

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Franz Kline (1910 to 1962) was an American Abstract expressionist and possibly the first minimalist. The paintings from his Hot Jazz series were originally based on random shadow shapes but, Kline also carefully rendered many of his most complex pictures from extensive studies, commonly created on telephone book pages.

In this workshop, by using a putty knife and house-painting brushes we'll be forced to execute with a looser and more simplified strokes. We'll also work out basic compositions ahead of time increasing our odds for success. Best of all, we'll have great fun as we paint freely and learn to see the possibilities of minimal strokes. Make as many as 3 paintings in one day! Please see materials list. Questions, contact Zoya at
